Yountville—More Than Just Fine Dining

Locals here in the wine country of Napa Valley, specifically the quaint town of Yountville, half-jokingly say that when standing in the center of town, you can literally throw a stone in any direction and hit a Michelin star- or top Zagat-rated restaurant. It is true that this destination has solidified itself as a playground for the luxury gourmand, but Yountville has more to offer than just outstanding food. It has also established itself as one of the premier locations in the country for some of the most sought-after art. Galleries dotted throughout the township highlight various artists both local and afar. One of these such noted galleries is the North Bay Gallery.

Established more than 15 years ago, proprietors Marc and Donna Eremian created a warm and non-intimidating space where they could feature art they loved such as bronze sculptures, contemporary glass art, watercolors and oils from local and internationally acclaimed artists as well as exquisite one-of-a-kind jewelry collections. Their gallery, located on the ground level of the V Marketplace building in the heart of Yountville, showcases the talents of many world-class artists.

The Artist's Work

Growing up in Hawaii the couple became acquainted with Guy Buffet's work and it must have been serendipity as Guy had been painting scenes of Tahiti and Hawaii since the early 1960s when he left his native France to become the French Navy's official artist and "paint the world." Today he continues to paint vividly colored scenes from life on the islands, as well as humorous depictions of iconic characters in gastronomy such as rotund waiters, gregarious chefs and jolly sommeliers. The shared "Aloha Spirit" between Guy, Marc and Donna has over the years grown into a wonderful collaboration as North Bay Gallery is an authorized seller of Guy Buffet's work north of the Golden Gate. They proudly display many popular pieces from Buffet for all to admire including "Chefs Over Napa" and "Taste Of Yountville," along with an expertly curated selection of Buffet's overall acrylic collection and an impressive array of watercolors.

“There’s something in Guy’s work that so eloquently conveys a sense of time and place. Whether he’s working in watercolor or acrylics, he captures the essence of each subject and brings it to life. His ability to revel in the whimsical, such as his depictions of animals in everyday human situations, or his modern influences in other works, demonstrates his breadth of talent and the ability to find joy in the simplest of human expressions ”

PROPRIETOR, NORTH BAY GALLERY

The Inspiration Behind The Brush

Buffet’s works reflect his time spent as a youth working his way up the hierarchy of the great restaurants in Paris. Born towards the end of the Second World War in the district of Montparnasse in Paris, he became entwined with the chaotic, yet wonderful world of restaurants as a young boy after the death of his father. His two older brothers, one a chef, the other a waiter, decided to open their own restaurant and it was here that Guy found the comradery of a kitchen to be a great comfort from his tough childhood. His extraordinary talents depict the often quirky aspects of restaurant-life as well the idyllic French countryside, to the relaxed ‘joie de vivre’ of Parisian Cafés. Today, Buffet spends much of his time traveling the world in search of inspiration and discovering new ways to tell stories with his brush. When he does take the rare down-time, you’ll find him painting in one of his studios in France, Maui or the Napa Valley.
